School Life In Its Many Phases

Captivates As Cavaliers Live Now

Live Now

On boards, but not bored, are these Freshmen during one of the many educational assemblies of the year.

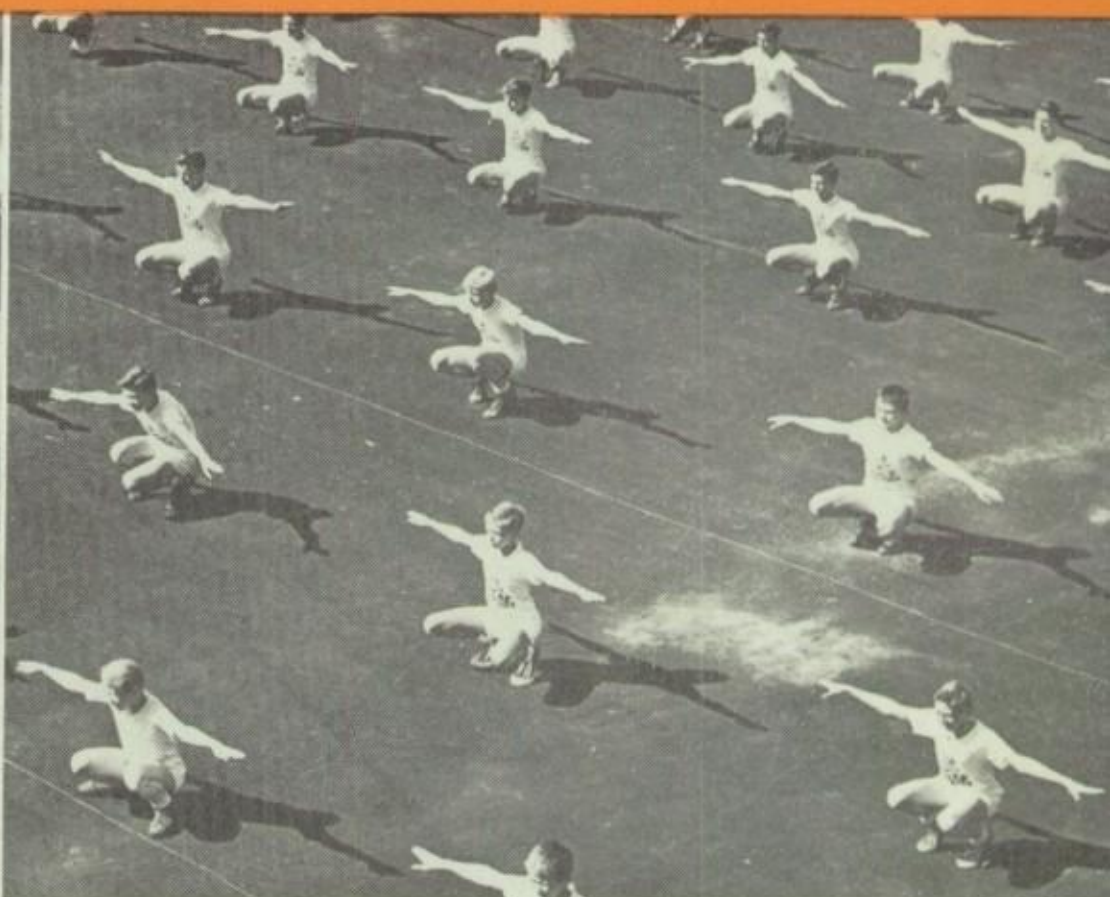

Capturing The Joy Of The Moment

P. Gormley takes over Biology class while Bro. Gensler is out tending his little white mice.

Test tube demons await explosions of something under the supervision of the chemical genius of Tom Mott.

Hackberry Street in all its glory goes down on the canvas of Bro. Weber's gifted little Rembrandts.

Not a ballet but a muscle teasing session in the gym classes! Charles Atlas has nothing on them.

Conquering The Work Of The Day

"Big Business" in the typing room. Here the "Bank" consults the "Real Estate Company" in Bro. Beyer's "Pixie Land."

The student in these four years of school life leads a very useful, practical life. During this short time he forms his character and lives a full life every day. By sincere study and practice in spiritual, social, moral, physical, and intellectual fields, he "Lives Now," successfully.

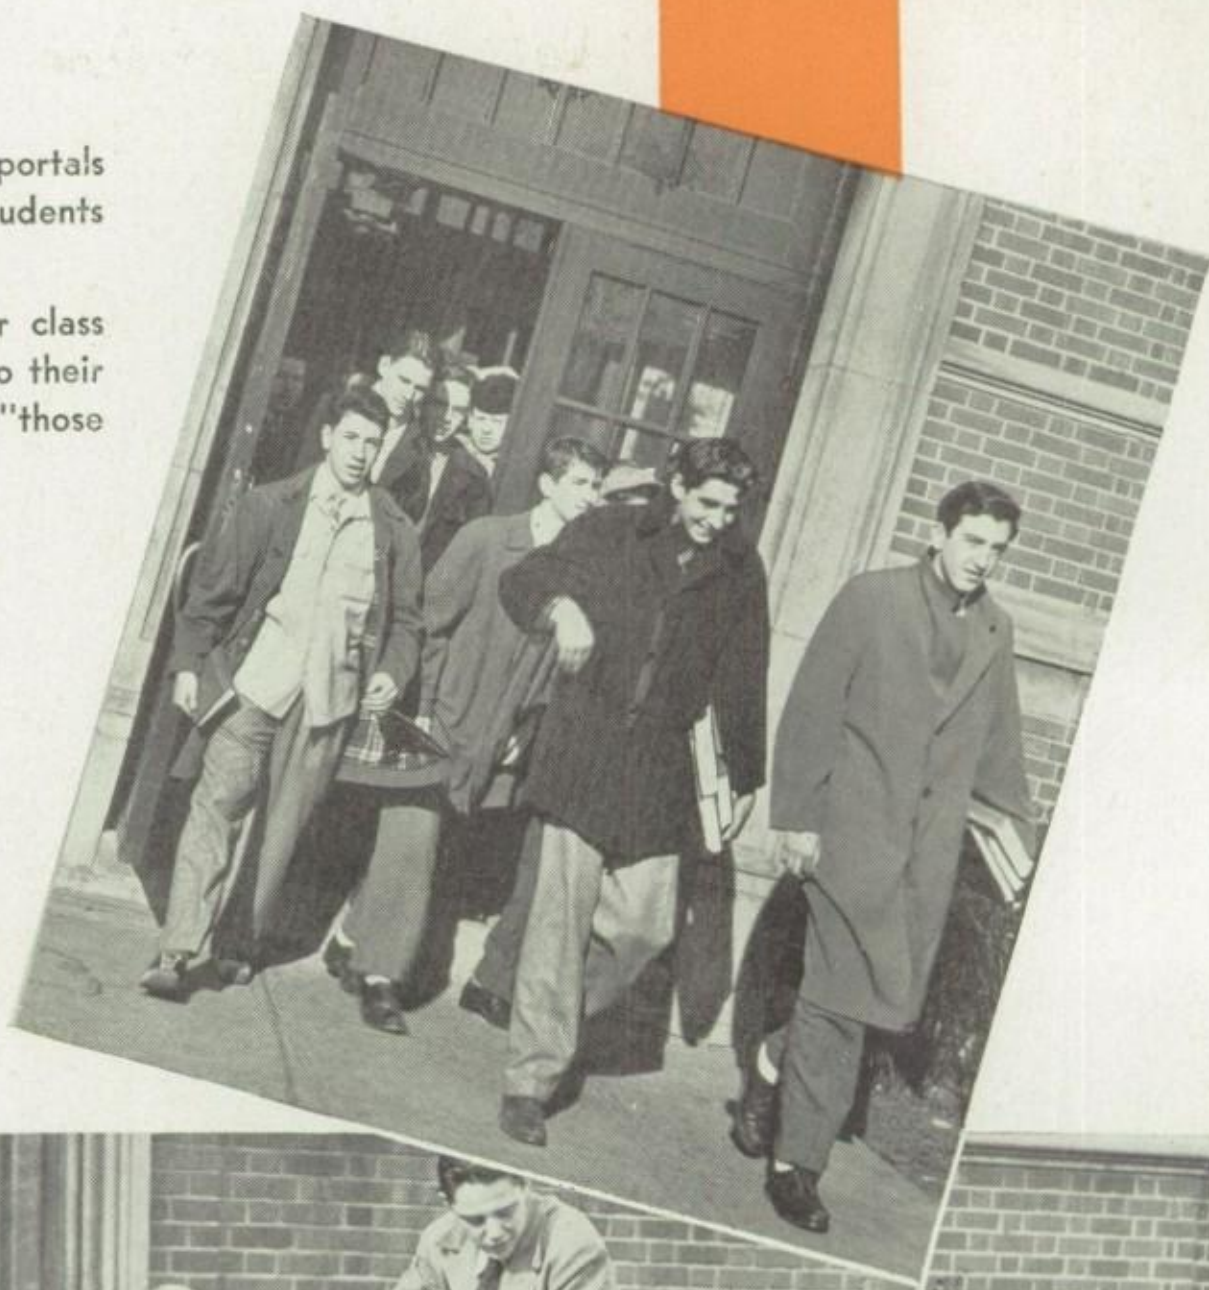

At a sedate looking building on Hackberry Street a group of religious men, interested in the future of young men, are busy turning out, with fatherly care, tomorrow's leaders. This building in which students "LIVE NOW" was known and loved by us for four years as PURCELL HIGH SCHOOL!

Our School - - - The Scene Of Life

It's 2:15 again as Purcell's portals open and the hundreds of students exit for another day.

A few members of the senior class take it easy before returning to their afternoon classes after one of "those lunches" in the cafeteria.

Our Guide, Our Stay, Our Inspiration

In his first year at Purcell, Fr. George Barrett has won the respect of every Cavalier—as their leader, as their friend. Wishing to help the students in every possible way, he advocates more faculty counseling, especially concerning vocation. The Student Council found him always ready to cooperate in giving anything necessary for the students' success or enjoyment.

Hey-day for Math Club as new pledges are received. On this occasion the camera catches three organizers together. It must have been a good one to make Fr. Barrett smile.

Live Now

Mr. Emsweiler's turn at the mike to sing the praises of the Cavaliers as another one of the many personages speaks at the football banquet.

B. Hatfield completes a conference with our Principal, Fr. Barrett. Fr. Barrett is well known for his ability to cope with any problem which confronts the high school student.

Our Secretaries

Miss Mary Kennedy

Miss Jeanne Meiers

MONTHS of bustling activity sum up Miss Kennedy's year at Purcell. Hard work, friendly smiles, and those many little favors give us a great admiration and respect for her.

Indeed Miss Kennedy is the feature attraction for the returning alumni. And today's Cavaliers too, will remember her always for the kindness she has showered upon everyone unceasingly.

Fortunate is the man who has a competent secretary and this is just what our Procurator has in Miss Jeanne Meiers. Taking letters, handling finances, and assisting the Vice-Principal all come under her busy secretarial day.

Having her at Purcell has been a great pleasure to everyone.

Live Now

Miss Jeanne Meiers, as capable as she is nice, handled her secretarial chores with poise and efficiency at the Cavalier Castle.

One of the most well liked, hard working personages about Purcell — that's Miss Mary Kennedy, personal secretary to Fr. Barrett, the principal.

Our Vice-Principal

OUR Vice-Principal, Brother Lawrence J. Eveslage, S.M., is ideal in his position. Tall, exacting, and competent, he is an active follower of Purcell's athletics. He has carefully advised numerous Cavaliers in their individual plans for the future. He is eager to help the deserving student.

Bro. Lawrence Eveslage, S.M.

Enthusiastic, energetic — best describes Bro. Lawrence Eveslage in his capacity as Vice-Principal. He keeps things running on a smooth basis.

Handling of the demerit slips was the task given to Bro. Schneider this past year. He took care of this job with his usual quiet thoroughness.

Cavalier Men Spend Precious Seek To Master All Their Technical

These future engineers are hard at work in the physics lab under the guiding hand of Bro. Jansen.

The intent interest expressed by the soph "bug-ologists" is fully shown by their attention to their work.

The studies a student masters in these few years of education should be used as the basis for future life. Though school life is primarily for study, activities of a spiritual, moral, and social nature should also be made part of life. Each day he should be able to fully express himself in just two words, "Live Now."

Live Now

Moments Wide-Awake As They And Puzzling Intellectual Problems

The beaming smile of Buschle's either means someone cracked a joke or he is conscious of the cameraman.

The junior chemists seem to be trying to figure out what's what in one of their lab experiments.

The radio class is really absorbed in its work. If the adventures produce any noise or sound, they're satisfied.

Fr. Kenning appears quite pleased with the report given by one of his students in his religion class.

Cavalier Underclassmen

STARTING the year off with a bang the Junior Chemists almost blew up the chemistry lab with their experiments in that field of science.

Along more stable lines the Junior orators took the spotlight in the month of November by seriously undertaking the mock elections. After much debate and general discussion the fate of the governor and state congressional candidates was sealed. Surprisingly enough the vote of the Junior voters nearly paralleled that of the elections in the state.

Junior Debators, Ken Haas and Harold Knecht, showed the results of Father Joseph Lekan's persistent coaching, when they and the other members of the debating team tied Mother of Mercy High School in the speech tournament sponsored by The Greater Cincinnati Speech League held at Newport High School on January 11.

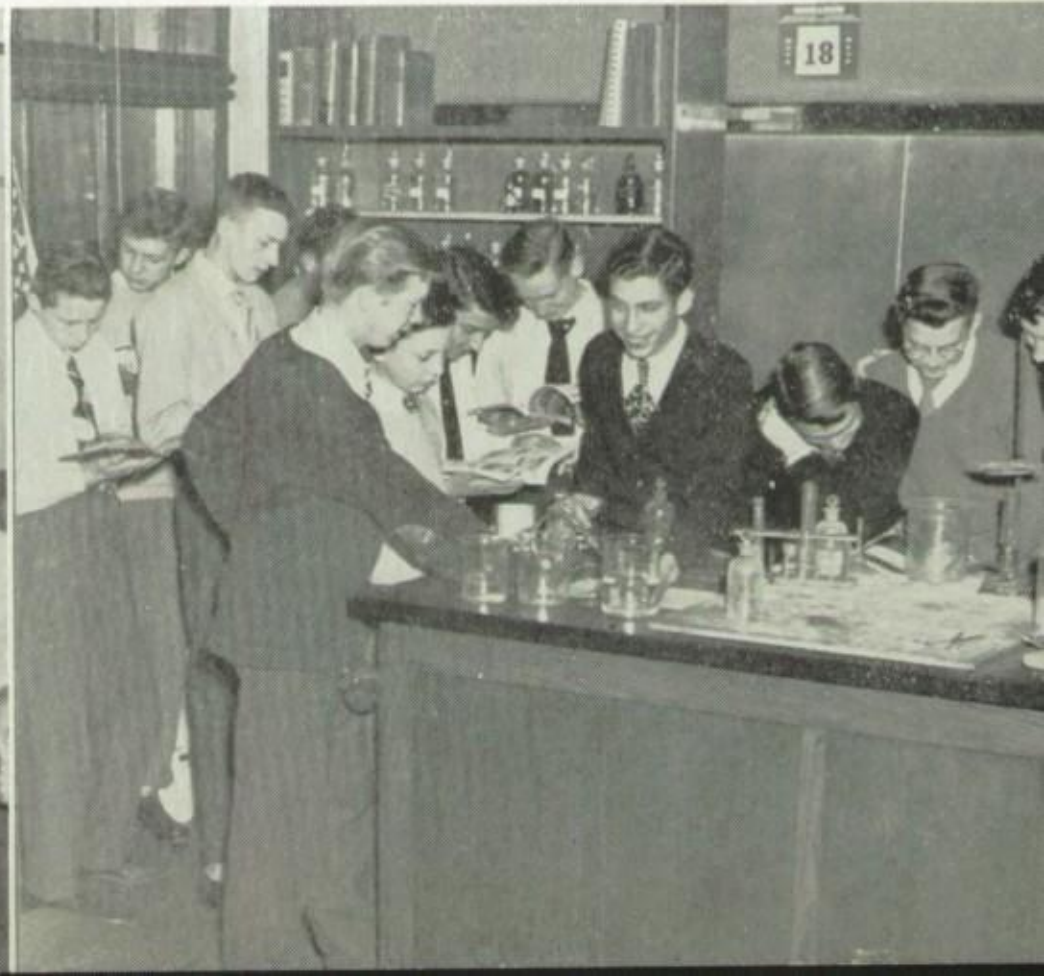

Purcell gridiron fans should have a team of paramount fame next year with all the talent that won berths for themselves on the '47-'48 team. The following pillars of strength will be the mainstay of the power-loaded litter: Captains W. Adkins and J. Hoffman, J. Brown, V. Scardina, P. Gates, W. Coad, R. Siefert, R. Brill, A. Kramer and V. De Salvo.

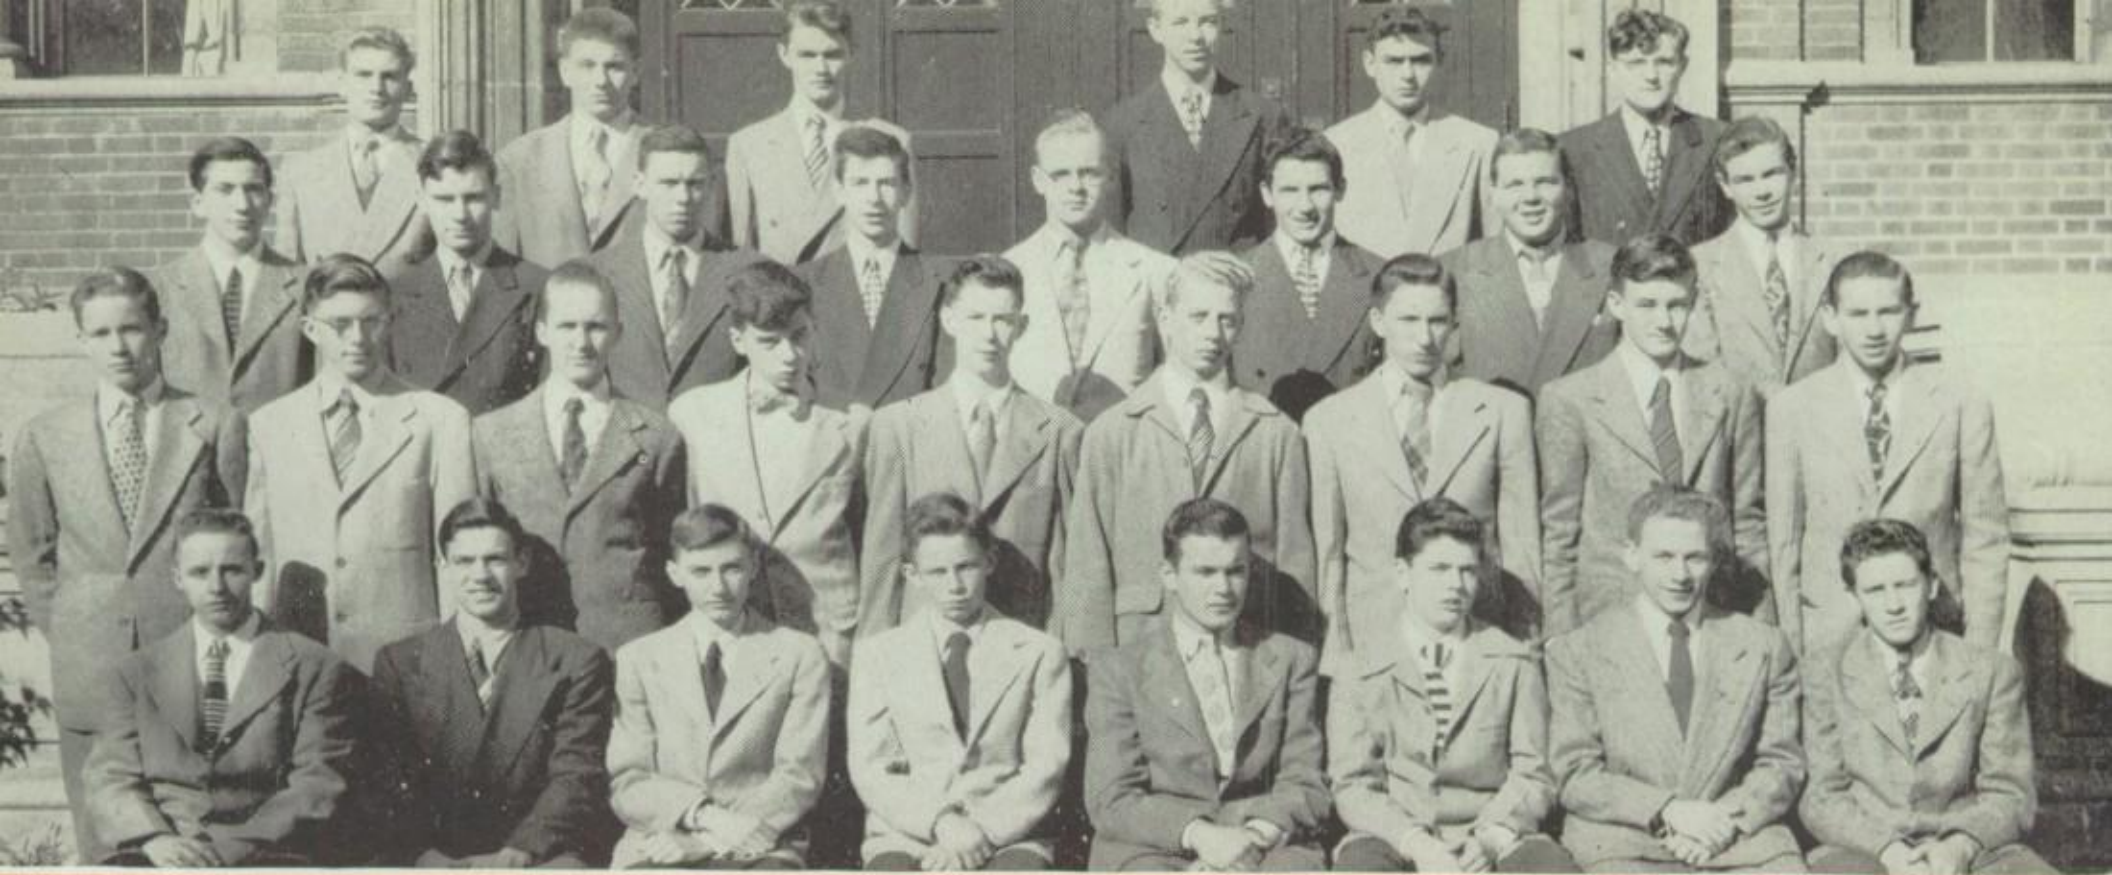

During the special upperclassmen's sessions in the retreat the Juniors regarded Father Hilvert's messages as ones that should never be forgotten.

As the yearly physical examinations rolled around Junior muscle-men were seeing visions of square-headed, six-inch needles, which drained them of their life's blood. The only casualty reported was Dan Hogan, who fainted when he found out he had an acute case of dandruff.

Very apparently Bro. Geary isn't present as some Jr. students examine Chem Lab "decorations" while classmates take it easy.

Either these boys are very interested in Dalton's theory on the Atom or someone slipped a couple of comic books in.

PROMISING practical production, the prudent Sophomores poured passively through the portals of the Purcell palace. The Sophisticated Sophs resolutely followed the hard-labor policy and went all out for their alma mater.

Determinedly they began their aggressive policy; they plunged into their studies with such vigor that even the faculty was surprised. Thirty-four names graced the Roll of Honor during the first two periods alone.

In the field of sports the scrappy Sophomores, John McPhillips and Joe Degaro, deserve much merit for their fine play in the Dixie Heights and other Inter-City games.

On the other side of the sports clock Joe and John also starred in Basketball, with Joe retaining top scoring honors.

During retreat week the sophomores became brothers-in-prayer to the Freshmen who were all but strangers to the conferences. By their fine example the sophomores showed the Freshmen how to gain useful lessons from the interesting talks given by Father Hilvert.

These future businessmen seem to have discovered something very startling. Could it be Bro. Beyer's Grade Book?

BECOMING accustomed to the fast tempo set by school life, the interest of the freshmen was awakened in the various activities of the school. Not to be outdone by last year's class the Frosh of 1946 borrowed 1412 books from the library for the first semester alone. Freshman A led the pack with 331 books. Their serious study showed marked results on the honor roll. During the first two periods, eighteen freshmen reached the pinnacle of academic fame.

Guided by the example of Freshman B, with 336 per cent, the freshies took the lead at the beginning of the Turkey Raffle drive and held it through the home stretch getting their first chance to show the Crimson spirit.

Nor did they slacken their pace when it came to the field of sports. During king football's brief reign one of the largest freshmen squads in Purcell's history was taken under Coach Kluska's wing. They proved their worth by losing only one game during the entire season.

When basketball season rolled around, the boys were not lax in their response to the call issued by Bro. Gensler, the freshman coach. Seventy-five candidates turned out, from which twenty-three were selected for practice.

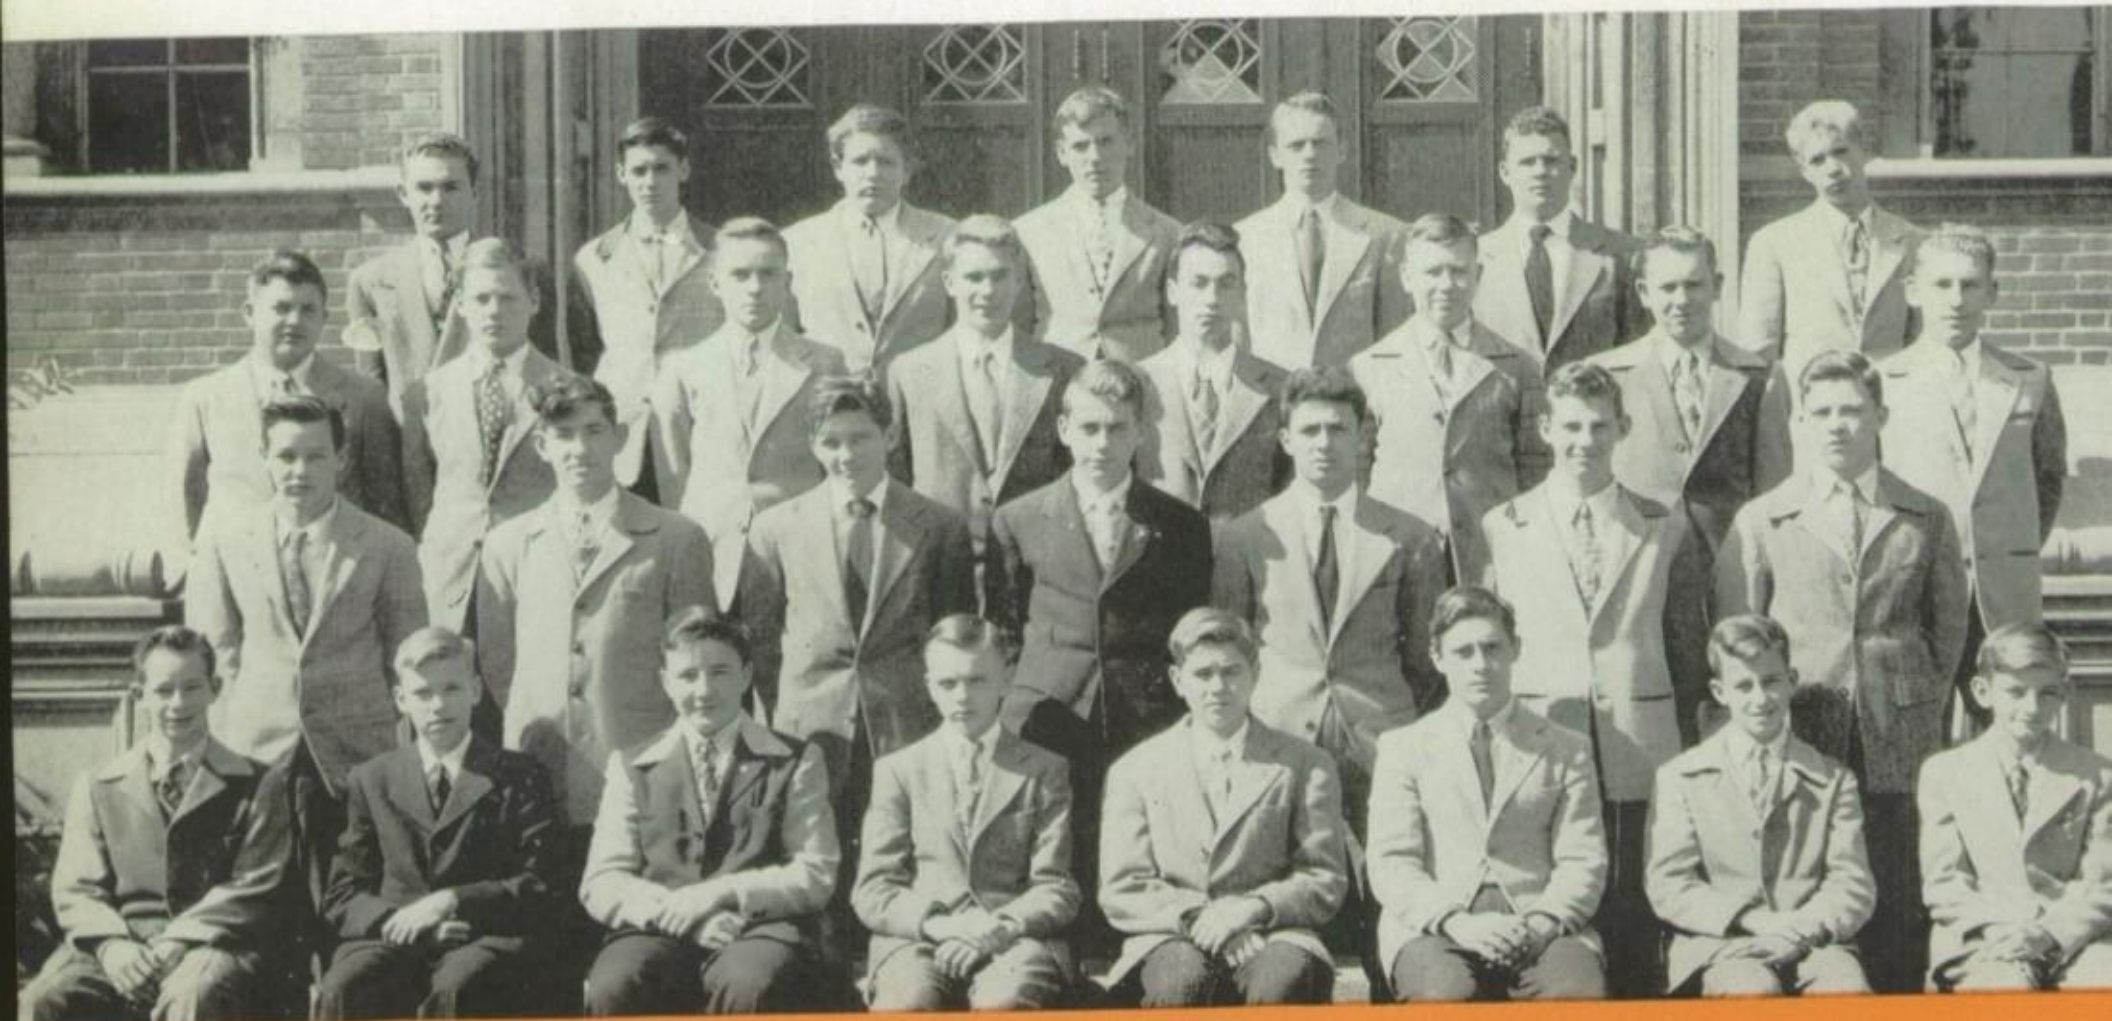

In their spiritual life at Purcell the Freshmen proved themselves genuine Cavaliers. At the recent retreat, which was held at Purcell, they by their interest and attentiveness, showed their spiritual devotion and love of God.

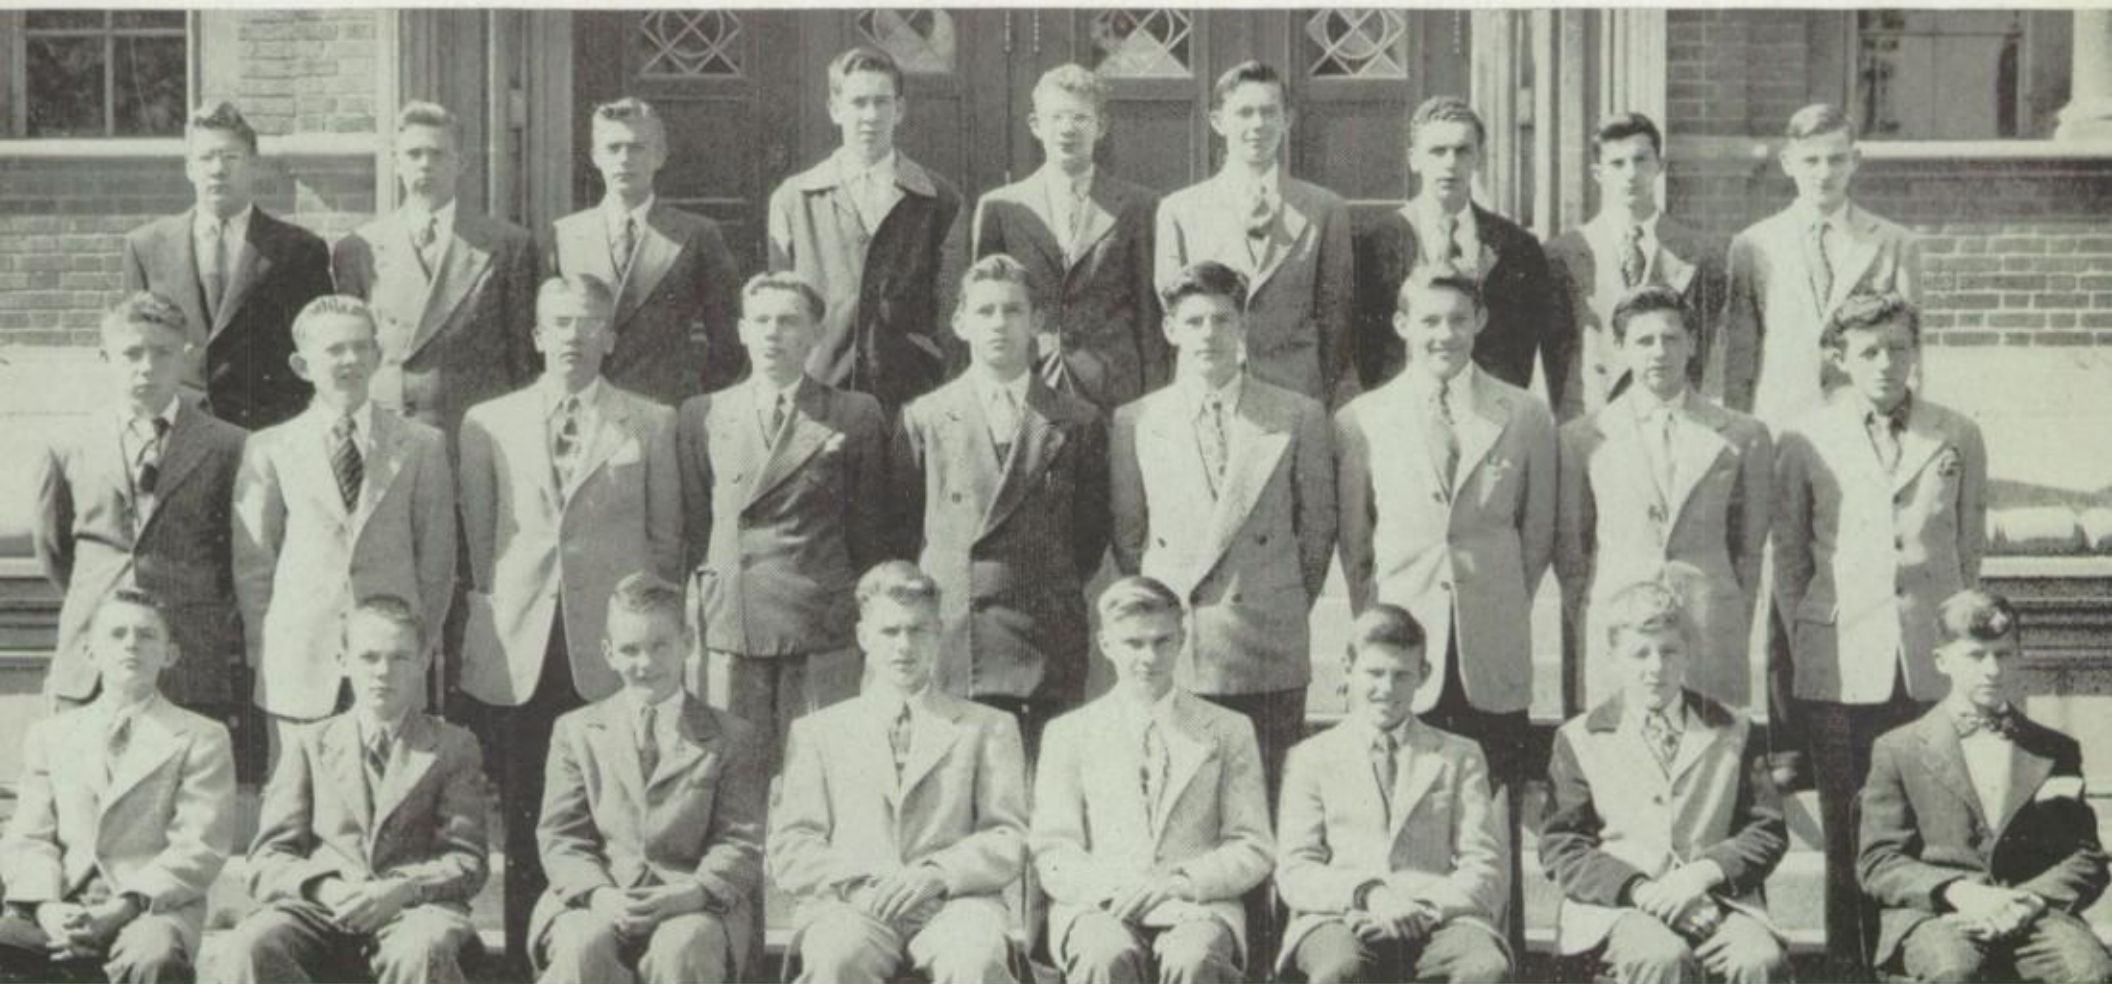

In all fields—religion, study, and sports—the freshmen proved their willingness to learn and to improve where mistakes were noted, observing the slogan "Live Now!"

Victors Forged On The Gridiron

COMPILING one of the most enviable football records at Purcell, having stretched their string of consecutive wins to 26, Purcell's Cavaliers went through another undefeated season to cop for the third straight season the G.C.C.L. championship. Sparked by Capt. Don Brill, the Cavaliers reign as champs. Jim Daley, and Bill Adkins also were major threats in Purcell's offensive game; but that little pack of dynamite, Paul Misali, defensively proved to be a menace for the opposition.

The stalwart Cavalier line consists of Mike Daly, Bob Siefert, Bill Curran, Bob Lorenz, John Brown, Virgil Scardina, and Jack Hoffman. Other linemen who saw a considerable amount of action are Al Kramer, George Spille, Don Williams, Neal McHugh, Vinny DeSalvo and John McPhillips. What the Cavalier aggregation lacked in weight and height, they made up in spirit and fight.

Wearing the Crimson and Gold for the last time were eight seniors: captain Don Brill, Paul Misali, who was hospitalized with an operation near the end of the season; Mike Daly, a fancy-Dan pass-snagger; George Spille, returned to Purcell after serving a bit in the Marine Corp;

Live Now

Bill Curran, quiet but spirited, and that's all that counts at a guard position; Don Williams, another line bolster; Neil McHugh, the fiery red-headed tackle; Bob Lorenz, The Cavaliers' pivot-man.

These boys bore the brunt of most of the action during the past successful season. Their aggressive play provided many headaches for the opposition. Through the line's teamwork and coordination, combined with the precision of the star-studded backfield, they romped through the third undefeated season.

Bodily exercise is not enough for a successful season; exercise of the mind known as "skull practice" is essential also. Here the entire football squad is assembled in the study hall for just such a session with Coach Kluska presiding up front.

Time out on the gridiron means time out on the bench. What are you doing "Sadie," whistling "Mother McCrea?"

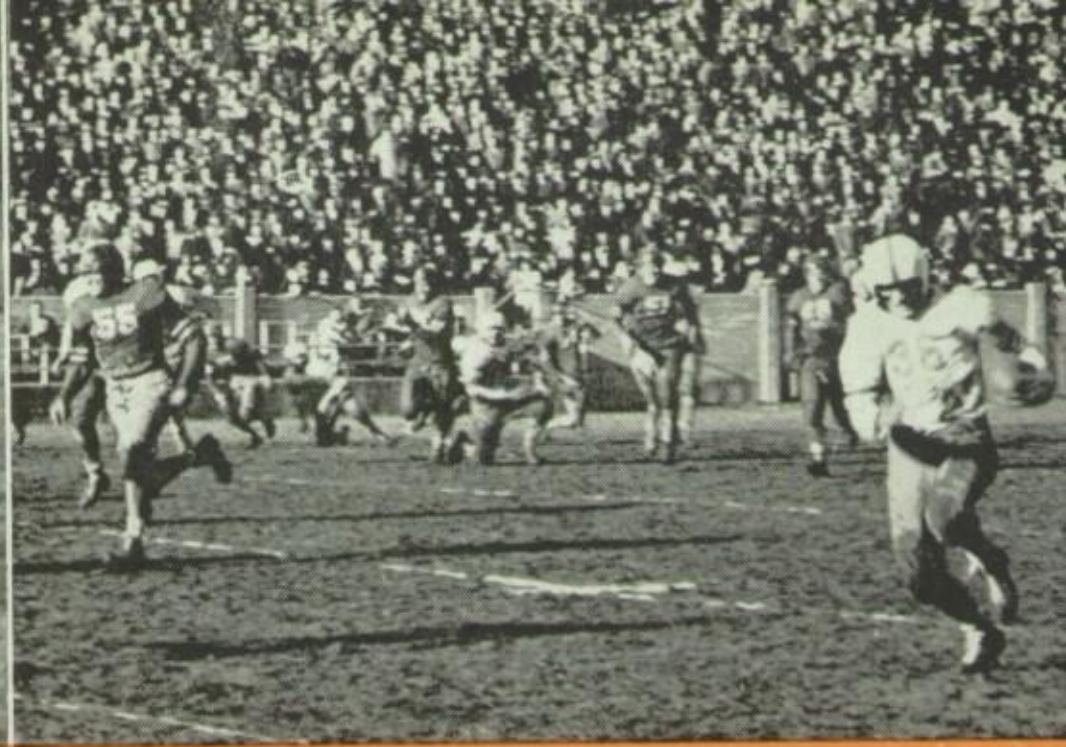

Student Managers W. Klosterman, N. Churney, B. Steubbe, and "Sharpie" King play their parts with Coach Kluska in football matters.

Coad caught short of a T.D. in the Bacon game.

Daly sweeps end into secondary after eluding opposition's forward wall.

Battles And Tallies

25 Dixie Heights 7

Determined to stretch their string of consecutive victories, Purcell's huskies, led by scintillating Don Brill, trounced Dixie Heights, 25-7 in their '46 grid debut.

12 Walnut Hills 0

Held in their own territory for the first quarter by a stubborn Eagle eleven, the Cavaliers called to the rescue Don Brill, who played the feature role in downing the Eagles by scoring both T. D.'s, one on a pass from Adkins, and the other on a 87 yard jaunt.

31 Hughes 6

Flooding the sky with aerials, Purcell's gridders bombarded the "big Reds," 31-6. "Lever arm" Adkins flipped passes all over the lot, with Jim Daley, Don Brill, and Paul Misali bagging them for pay dirt glory in an aerial contest.

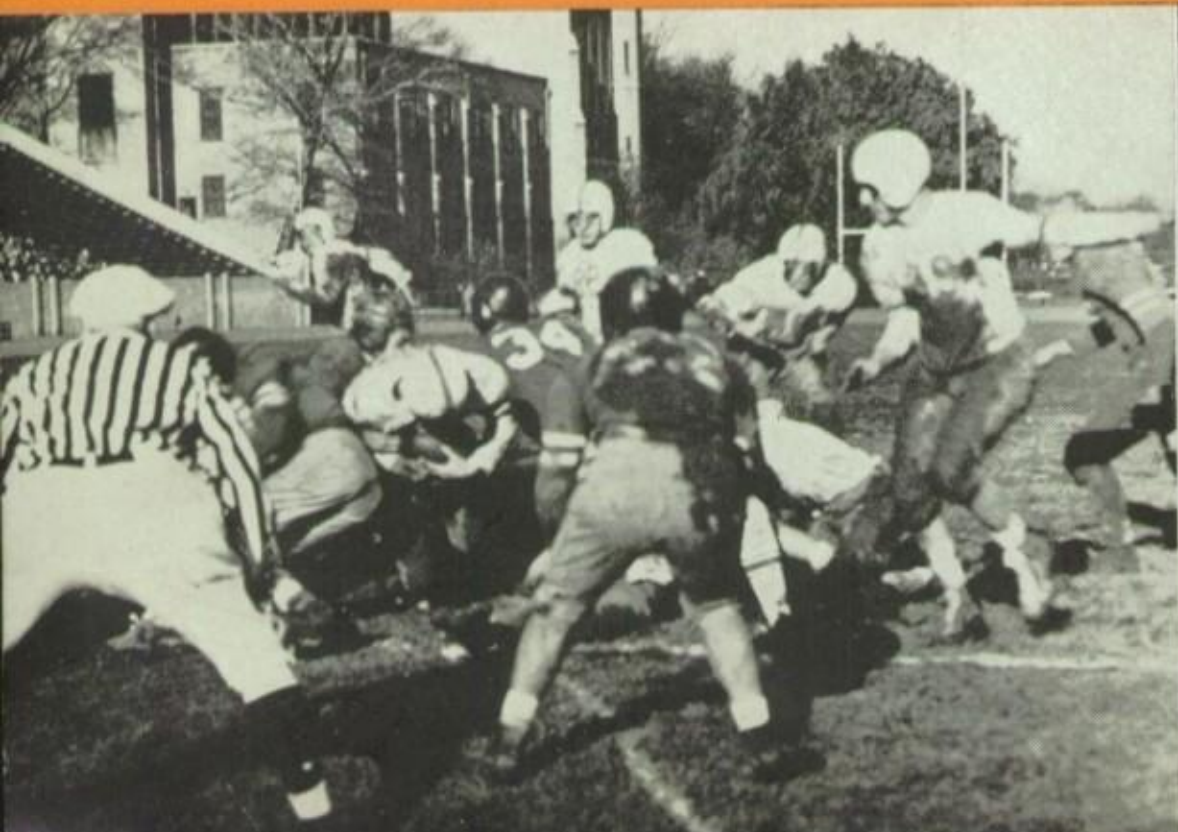

25 Western Hills 14

Don Brill, Paul Misali, and "piston-legged" Jim Daley accounted for the Cavalier registers in bouncing the "Maroons," 25-14, with the Crimson and Gold forward wall playing its best game, opening up enough holes for Purcell's backs to rack up 20 first downs.

34 Campbell County 0

Traveling "just a hoot and a holler down the road," to Campbell County, the Cavaliers walloped the "Camels," 34-0, with the Purcell understudies taking over the show in the second canto, exhibiting the same prowess as their big brothers by rolling up the most points.

Daley crashes through center to score lone marker against "Bombers."

Adkins completes aerial to Brill who streaks for goal in "Eagle" fray.

Menace of Western tacklers necessitates quick maneuvering by Misali.

Players of both elevens converge after the tackle has been made.

34 Roger Bacon 7

Purcell emerged victorious over Roger Bacon Spartans in a smashing, driving, grueling contest. Jim Daley cracked over for 32 yards for the first marker. Don Brill figured in two more of Purcell's scores. "Greek" Misali snagged an "air-express" to increase the score. Ron Brill, Don's twin brother, broke into the scoring column by tacking up 6 points for the C & G.

20 Withrow 7

With the Frank J. Ward trophy at stake, the Cavaliers succeeded in retaining the cup for the third consecutive season by downing their neighboring rivals, the Withrow Tigers, 20-7 in a hotly contested game that saw Jim Daley cross the goal line twice. "Red" Brill tallied once later in the game. "Tiny" Hoffman and Mike Daly registered for the extra points.

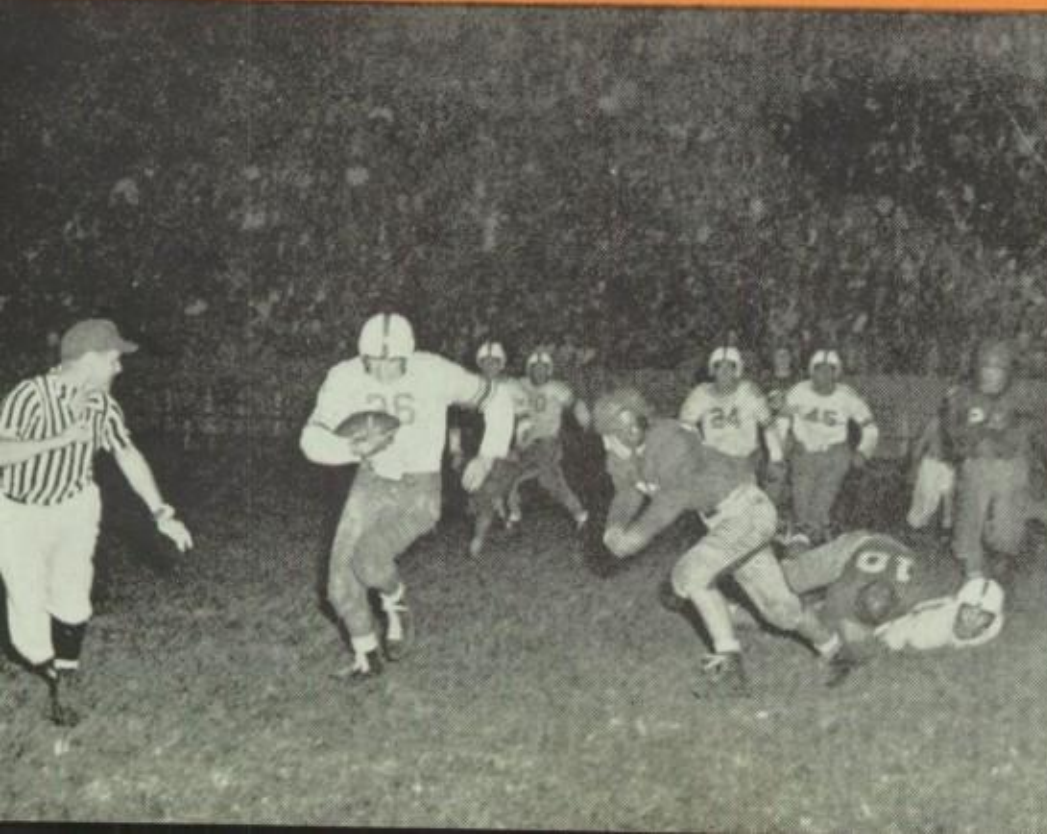

21 Elder 0

Clashing in the annual G. C. L. double header before 16,000 enthusiastic rooters, Elder and Purcell tussled with Purcell reigning as victors; however, the Cavaliers' scrappy line-backer's absence was noticed. Paul Misali, who was hospitalized, was replaced by Paul Gates who scored climaxing an early 67 yard drive. "Red" Brill and Jim Daley both tallied with Adkins and Heller converting.

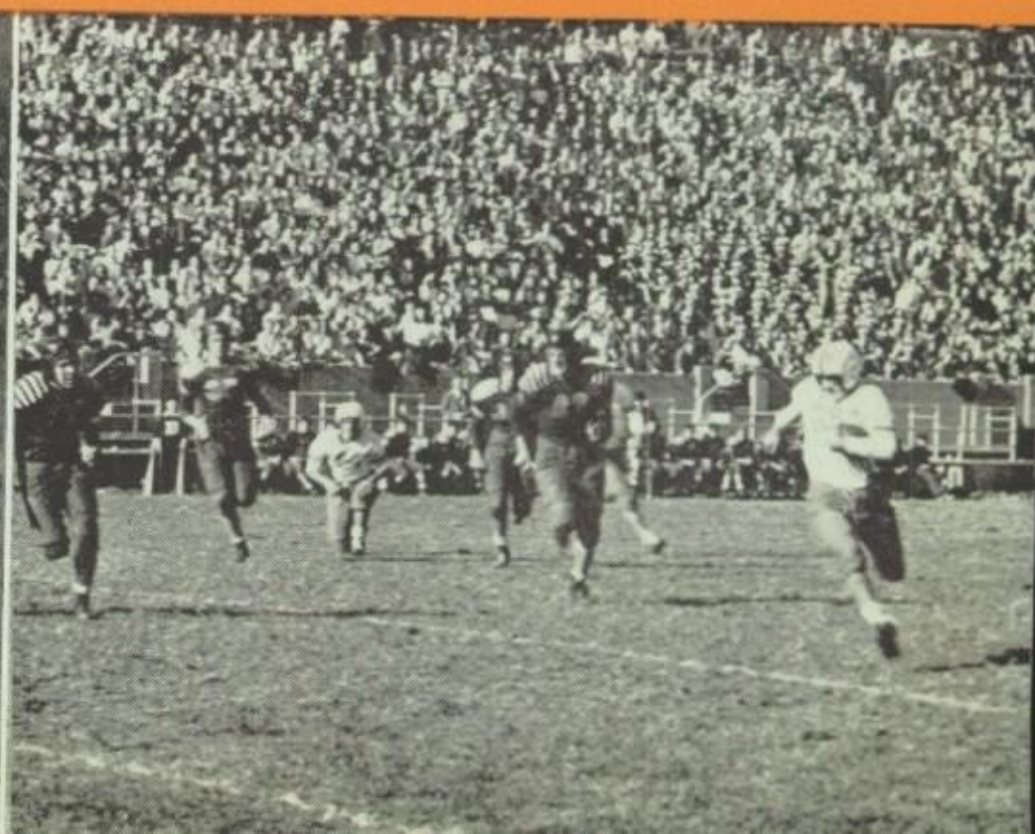

7 Xavier 6

"Gimme that ball," resounded within Xavier stadium, recalling Don Brill's famous phrase of the '44 season, and again history repeated itself. Brill scored that all deciding point after Jim Daley squirmed across the goal line from the 2 yard stripe. A slow field checked the advances of both teams and resulted in the close and low score.

Daley breaks loose in Walnut Hills game and races goalward.

"Packing the Mail" around end against Bacon's "Spartans" is Daley.

Varsity Understudies Toughen

GAINING valuable gridiron experience under the coaching reins of ass't varsity coach, Jack McAndrew, Purcell's Reserves closed their season with a rather lopsided record, losing 6, winning one, and tying one out of eight contests; however the varsity understudies should not be underrated, for in all of their games the true Cavalier determination, never give up, existed.

Applying true sportsmanship in all of their games the Crimson and Gold juniors showed their aggressiveness and stamina, and football knowledge by playing a "heads-up" brand of ball, common at Purcell.

Sophomore linemen who bolstered the reserve forward wall are: B. Kolkmeier, P. Leisring, R. Horstmeyer, C. Corken, J. McPhillips and Wilson, whose average weight exceeded that of the stalwart varsity line, valuable material for next year's varsity.

Spearheading the Cavalier backfield are these six sophs: D. Daly, J. DeGaro, B. Malloni, J. Ruf, A. Doggett and A. Hebbeler.

In Tough, Unheralded Contests

A VERY agile squad of gargantuans turned out for the Cavalier Freshmen team. Being well versed in Coach Kluska's style of football the frosh enjoyed a successful season, winning four games and losing two, rolling up 75 points to the opponents' 66 points.

Jackie Hunt, playing quarterback for two seasons at U.C. and now trying out with the Chicago Cubs at shortstop, assisted Coach Kluska in rounding the freshmen squad into condition. The frosh were often obliged to scrimmage the varsity. A number of boys who started practicing with the varsity late in August undoubtedly will graduate to the varsity ranks next year. Jim Bolger has already played in varsity competition. Two other frosh players who saw a considerable amount of action with the reserve squad are Gene Jochem and Jack Martin.

Rounding out the first year team line-up are J. Bolger and J. Muldoon, ends; E. McCarthy and C. Weierich, tackles; J. Pierani and J. Fledderman, guards; D. Dowdy, center; Backs: R. Franz, J. Martin, B. Marck, and G. Jochem.

PURCELL'S dribble-demons closed their score-books after a rather mediocre season with a 11-9 win-loss record. Despite their standings, they boast one of the city's highest scorers; Bill Donovan rang up 240 points for the third highest mark in the city. This year's quintet has scored more points than any other team in Purcell's history and has established a school record for scoring, dropping 69 points through the bucket in one contest.

The spirited Cavaliers dropped four contests by a one point margin. Hamilton Catholic's Rams, who later went up-state in the tournament, bowed to the Crimson and Gold hardwooders by one point.

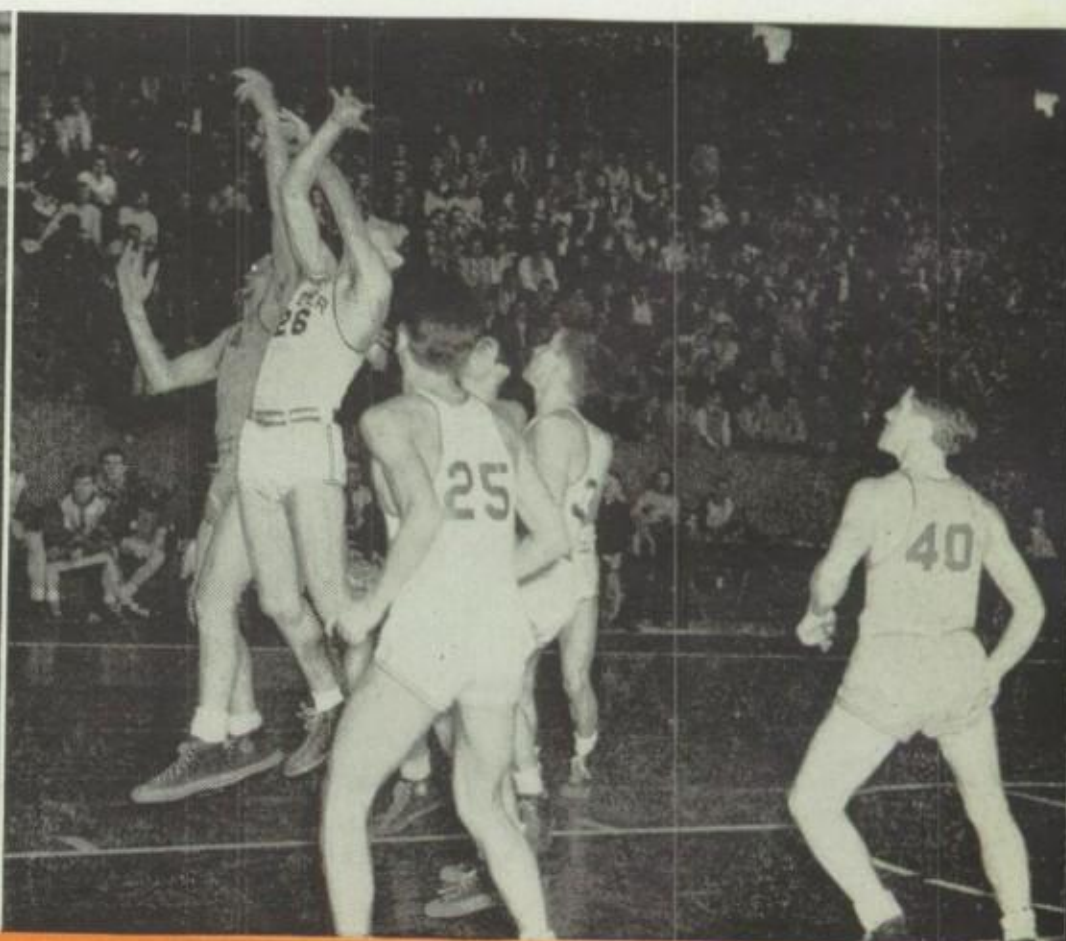

One of Purcell's classiest ball handlers was Captain "Doc" White, playing at a guard position. "Wild Bill" Donovan teamed up with "Doc" as guard. Forwards John Harmon and Mark Cosgrove displayed a brilliant style of trickery in out-maneuvering the opponents. Of course no one will forget the versatile junior pivotman, "Tiny" Hoffman, 6'3", who also starred on the Cavalier football team. Al Weiherer and Don Gruber netted the Cavaliers quite a number of points. Jim Mott and Don Brill paired off at forward positions. Two of the lankiest members on the squad are Frank Hall and Lou Seta, both reaching 6'4".

Rolls Toward Jinxed Disaster

All alone, Bill Donovan veers to the left attempting to avoid Xavier's challengers, great Bill Cady and Collins.

Bill Donovan follows the play as Hoffman and Josworth hold a grappling session while the ball is in flight.

Harmon avoids Xavier's defense and leaps high into air for shot in a G.C.C.L. game. Mark Cosgrove awaits rebound.

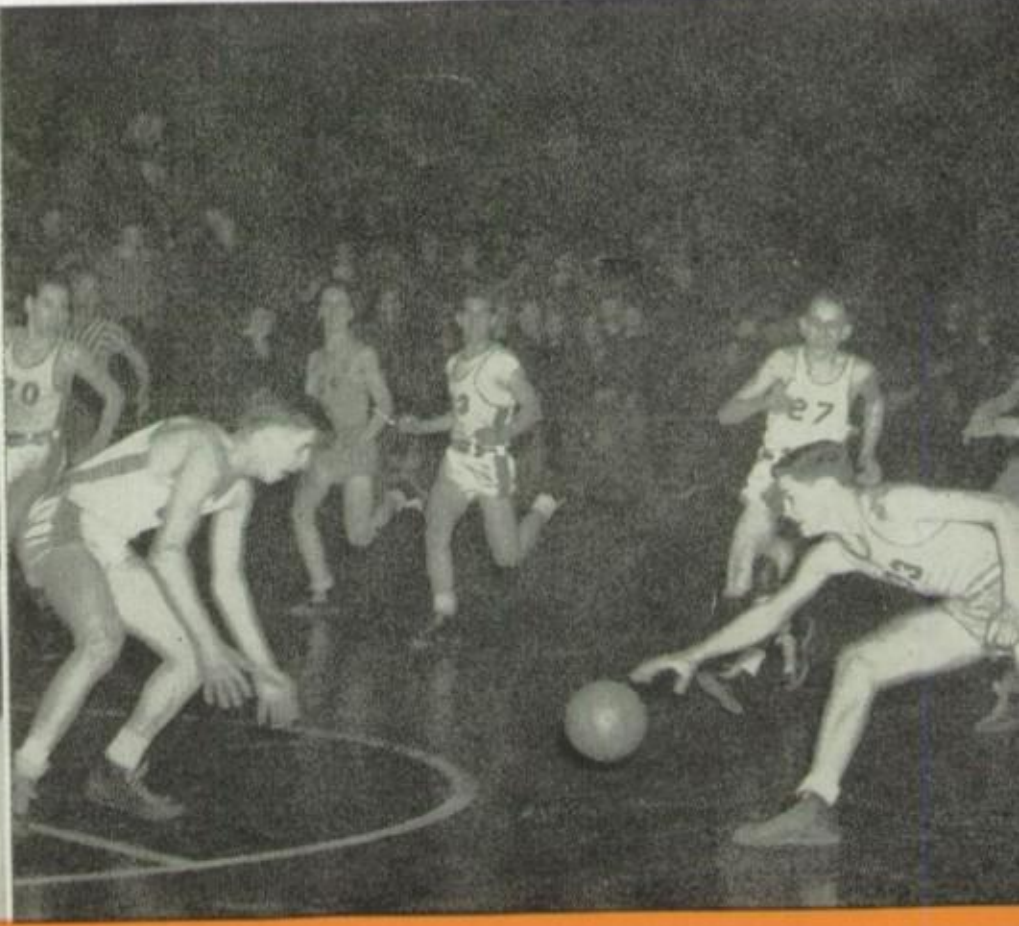

"Tiny" Hoffman in Bacon scrap attempts a shot from the circle as Cosgrove cuts in towards basket.

Left-hand Hooks Make Buckets

Norwood's Indians close in as Cosgrove dribbles past, emerging from a possible scalp. Could it be Mark is waltzing them with his whistling.

Hugging close to the floor, Jim Mott enters enemy territory with Lou Seta closing in against the Spartans.

Hook shot specialist, "Tiny" Hoffman, prepares for shot as Elder's "Panthers" anticipate another Cavalier field goal.

Up! Up! and away! in U.C.'s match box as John Harmon mimic's America's famous fantastic hero.

But Dribbled Bunnies Fail To Swish

A jump ball while Hoffman, with outstretched arms attempts to tip ball to Mark Cosgrove.

Apparently Purcell has nothing to say about this scramble, three Bacon players seem to have full ownership.

Reserves

PURCELL'S Reserves closed the score books on one of their most successful seasons after winning seventeen games and dropping seven.

Under the exacting guidance of coach and former Cavalier Bob Wellman, the Cavalcagers developed their ball handling skill to such precision accuracy as to shut out many of the city's top basket artists.

From the beginning of the season the basketeers displayed their prowess. Covington Catholic and Western Hills were the first to receive the bitter sting of defeat, but Hamilton Catholic halted another Crimsonmen victory in a 32 to 30 decision. The jolt of Purcell's dormant power, however, was revived against Taylor and Central.

The Reserves met their masters in Walnut Hills and Roger Bacon, but soon they rose from their knees and forced the surrender of the Ohio Military Institute, Elder, Withrow, the L.B. Indians and DePorres. St. Xavier, however, redded the Crimsonmen to scarlet with a 40 to 30 score. Four more victories raised the juniors' total to fifteen, but Roger Bacon's second victory soon darkened their path. At the season's twilight the quintet was forced to swallow a triple dose of defeat from the spoons of Elder, Xavier, and Dayton.

EMERGING from its thirty-four game schedule with the nifty pack of twenty-nine positive contests tucked securely away, the freshman basketball squad, Bro. Gilbert Gensler's bonanza brood, set records at Purcell.

After upsetting St. Mary's 40 to 10 the Crimson Cagers were clipped in the bud by De Sales Corner accepting a defeat at 20 to 31. The boys climbed onto the gravy train for the next four games by dropping the Vikings, Purcell's own Reserve Subs, and Amelia twice. Roger Bacon broke the ice, however, by conquering the Cavaliers 20 to 18. Once more the Freshmen shook off defeat and proceeded to win twenty-two consecutive tilts only to be stopped by the Holy Cross quintet 36 to 21.

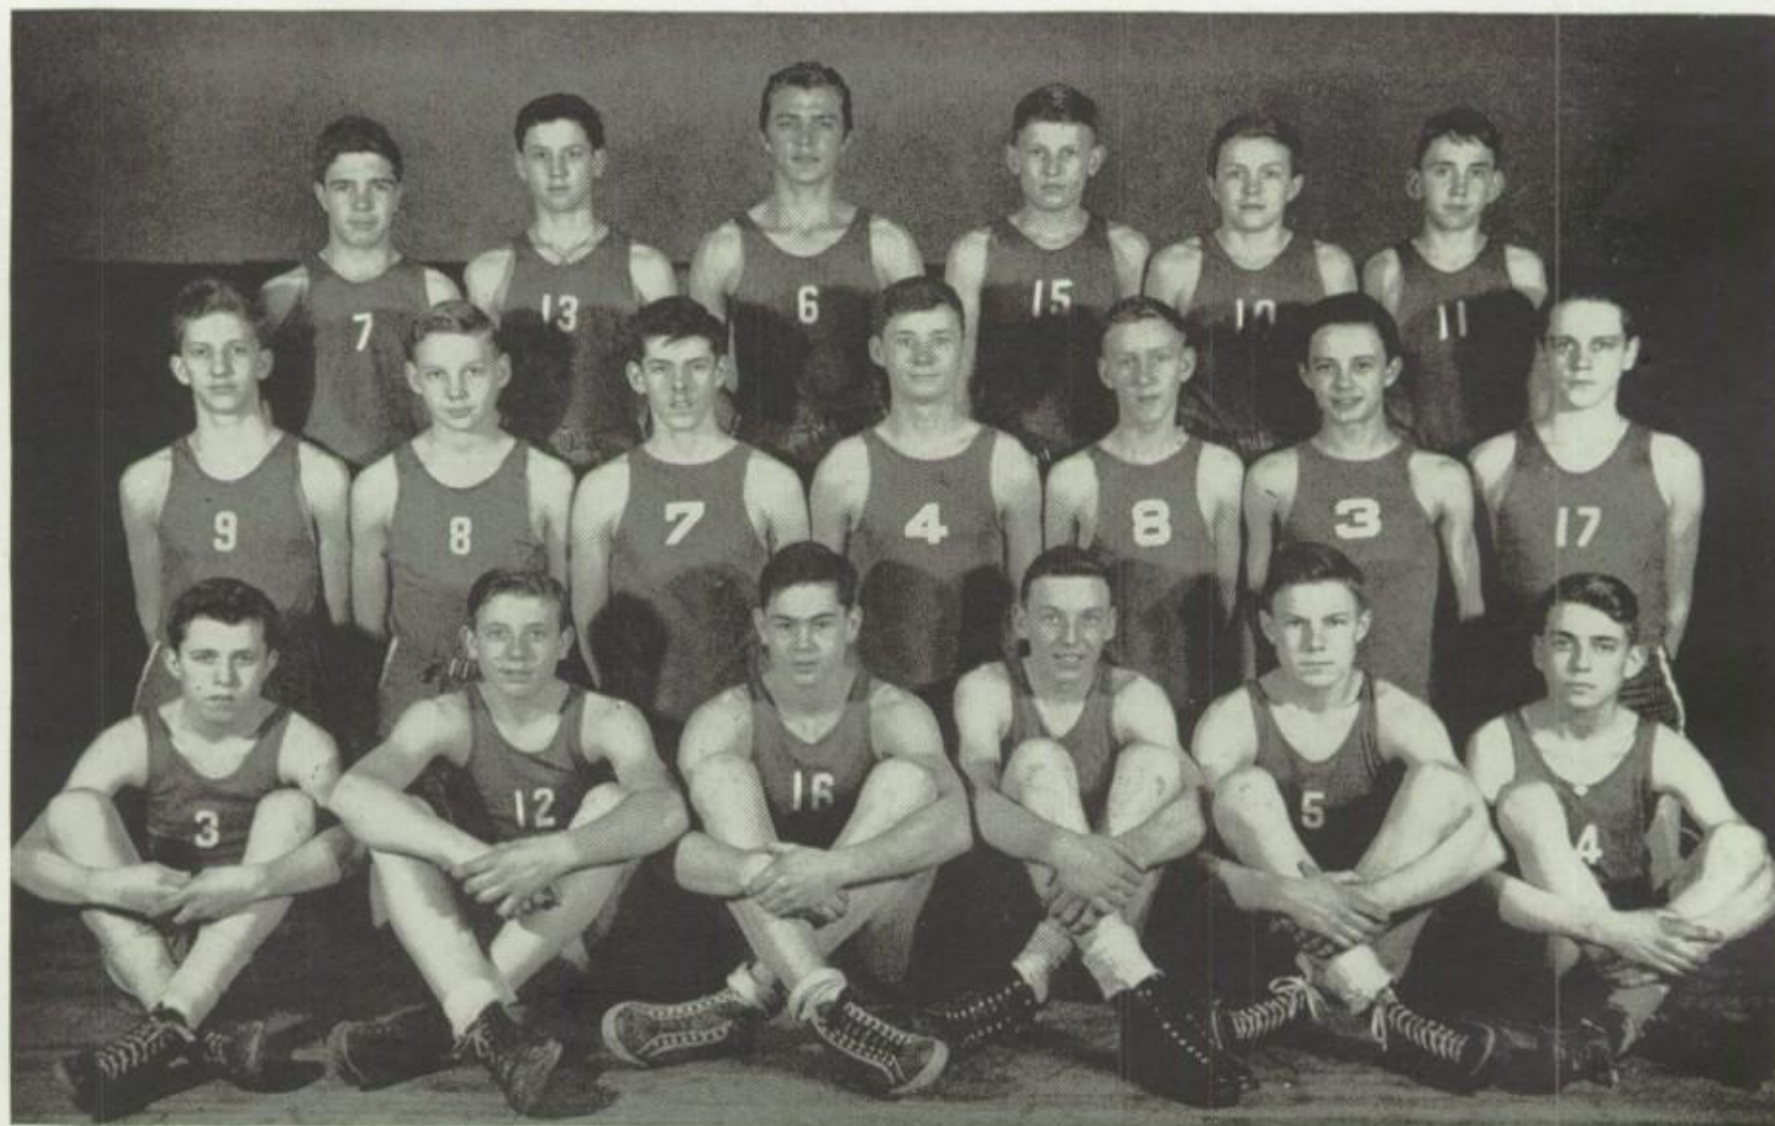

Pacing the squad in high scoring were John Westerkamp, Jack Muldoon, Bill Hall, Jim Anaruma, and James Bolger. John Westerkamp holds the title of the highest scorer of points per game with 22 in the clash with Assumption.

Baracudas Sink To Third

PURCELL'S blustering Baracudas of 1946-47 paddled their way to another gainful season in which they finished third to Elder and St. Xavier in the Greater Cincinnati High School League.

The seventeen man team, although it had no elected captain, was propelled by J. McDevitt, the Mermen's one and only Senior, and Juniors Bill Nightingale and Carl Deller.

Under Father Herman Kenning's guiding finger the water-wing boys held their own against the senior opposition presented by the inter-league combatants of both the G.C.H.L. and the P.H.L. leagues.

Rounding out the squad were J. Leonard, P. Wilton, G. Bristol, H. Berens, J. Ruf, R. Kropf, D. Weber, J. Nordloh, R. Morrissey, D. Dumbacher, W. Scheve, R. Holtgreve, F. Guterman and J. Fenske.

As in the past two years Bill Nightingale again lifted himself to the ranks of honor by capturing the high scorer crown. Instinctively following a leader the squad adopted Nightingale and carboned his example in developing their abilities to the utmost.

Tankmen Build Power

SPLASHING through the placid waters of the L.B., Purcell's paddling Reserves, although they received little, if any, notoriety, successfully completed a series of underwater engagements with remarkable thoroughness and agility. Propelling the Dolphins through the routine of instructions, Father Herman Kenning proceeded to adapt the former in the rigid standards of competitive swimming.

Already some of the aspiring freshmen have shown their abilities in mastering the backstroke and others have displayed their aptness in adopting the breast-stroke. Of the various methods of "submersive automotion" the hundred yard free style has been recognized as the most popular.

Cross-Country Track

ROUNDING the plates over hill and dale, Purcell's nascent cross-country team took to the field. Eight candidates reported for practice in July, practicing three times a week, in preparation for the regular season. In the dual meets Purcell failed to come off victors. Walnut hills squeezed out a 27-28 tally. Hughes bounced the Crimson and Gold boys 20-35. Setback by Norwood, the Hackberrians failed again in a 22-33 contest.

Sixth place was the best Purcell could do in the District Meet held at Avon field golf course; however, two Cavalier fleet-footers were awarded medals. Bob MacVeigh won a gold medal placing ninth, while "Red" Setter received a silver medal for sixteenth place.

PURCELL'S diamond dusters returned to the "bat and ball" wars. Donning their spiked shoes and mitt, with that cry, "Play Ball!" they opened their '47 campaign in search of another victorious season.

Captain Don Brill, his fourth year in varsity baseball, will share catching duties with sophomore Joe DeGaro, while Purcell's hurling staff consisting of Bill Adkins, Tom White, Don Gruber, and Jack Ruf dish them up.

"Tiny" Hoffman will cover first base. Don Daly and Bob Riesenburt are working out at second, while C. Cronin and Bill Folzenlogen are for shortstop duties. On the hot corner Les McDermott and George Spille alternate. Out in the green pastures, Jim Mott, Jim Bolger, C. Corcoran, R. Ross, and Elmer Morris shag fly balls. Coach McAndrews' boys are striving for another championship season so that Purcell might retain the All-Sports trophy.

OUT on the cinder path, the Cavalier thinclads are priming themselves for another track season under the coaching reins of Bro. Bill Schroeder, Ath. Director. Trying to realize another championship are fourteen returning lettermen.

Mel Hendricks and Ed Beverage will take over the century and 220-yard dashes. Bill Mueller and Bob Mulvaney are probable 440-yard men.

Two aspiring athletics, Bob MacVeigh and Mike Madden, promise good results in the mile run.

Paul Healy, Bill Udry, and "Red" Setter will vie for the half-mile posts. High Hurlers, Dan Hogan and John Brown, 220-yard hurler are returning for the '47 track season.

Carl Finn and Dick Heller are quite adept pole vaulters. J. Grogan and Leo Heitker practice their barrel rolls and scissor steps to perfection for the high jump. A. Cucinotta and Bill Coad are gunning for the school records in the broad jump.

"Saddie" McHugh and Don Brill, both of football fame, will put the shot for the Crimson and Gold. Joe Martinelli and "Red" Setter will heave the discus.

FROM the green-turfed, rolling fairways of Avon Fields, Purcell's iron wielding Byron Nelsons headed for another par-breaking season. Although the Crimson and Gold golf team was practically void of all seniors except one, Bob Wilmers, they have, nevertheless, envisioned the league championship trophy.

Sharing the card with Bob are juniors: Bob Foppe, Don Rudolph, and Dick Lamping, who will probably form the first quartet. The foundation of the second team will consist of Jim Grady, Harold Gajus, Louis Bomkamp, John Richter, and Larry Kunkemoeller.

Of the many turf-grinders in its schedule, the Withrow Tigers and the Norwood Indians linksmen are looked upon to be the Cavaliers' strictest competition. In their first two engagements the Scarletmen trounced Roger Bacon and St. Xavier in matches which predicted a bountiful season.

Directed under the militaristic guidance and perfections of Father Boyle, the Hackberry drivers possessed the constant hope and needed strength for many positive victories in future link contests.

OPENING their season on April 11 with Plainville, the Cavalier 1947 racqueteers prepared themselves for another year of fruitful victory.

Among the main threats provided by Purcell's court-set this year are the lone senior, Ray Kroger; the three "spider" boys — Jerry, Leo, and John Weber; Bob Beel, Larry Koenig and George Agricola.

Added to a portion of honest practice, the ability of Brother Gilbert Gensler's racquet boys will strive to provide Purcell's sports department with the essentials of a winning tennis team.

FROM the portals of the Twentieth Century Bowling Alley, Purcell's Intramural Keglers emerged with their ten-pins blazing. Topping the multi-colored teams was the Silver aggregation which pushed its victory with sixteen wins and two losses.

In second place with twin records were the White and Gold fives, both of whom reaped fourteen markers out of eighteen starts.

Gerry Kramer, Ronald Shawhan, and Vert Fluor held the highest individual scorers' titles with 216, 206 and 202 respectively.

Determined to make all of their activities most profitable in the school, the Cavaliers have succeeded in every phase of scholastic, social, and athletic undertaking. Actively engaged, Purcell students concentrated on the joy of living NOW.

Music-men Light Their Trail

Notes And Color

IN ITS second year under the able direction of Mr. Hubert Buschle and the moderation of Brother Joseph Keimig, Purcell's band made great strides towards becoming one of the city's best. An ingenious tri-color lighting system made an unforgettable spectacle at the Withrow fray and Purcell was the first school in Cincinnati to use this black-out maneuver.

The '47 band concert was another first for Purcell. The whole idea of the concert was complete informality. The music was semi-classical in tone and the selections were known to everyone. Guests were seated at tables and refreshments were served in the "Pop" style. Vocal soloists were featured for the first time together with instrumental soloists. Colorful tableaux highlighted the selections.

The concert was scheduled to run a minimum of five nights with a maximum of 400 people per night. Student night opened the series; three family nights brought many Cincinnati's music lovers; and alumni night provided a jovial reunion with music as they "took a cup a kindness yet for auld lang syne."

We Will Have Music

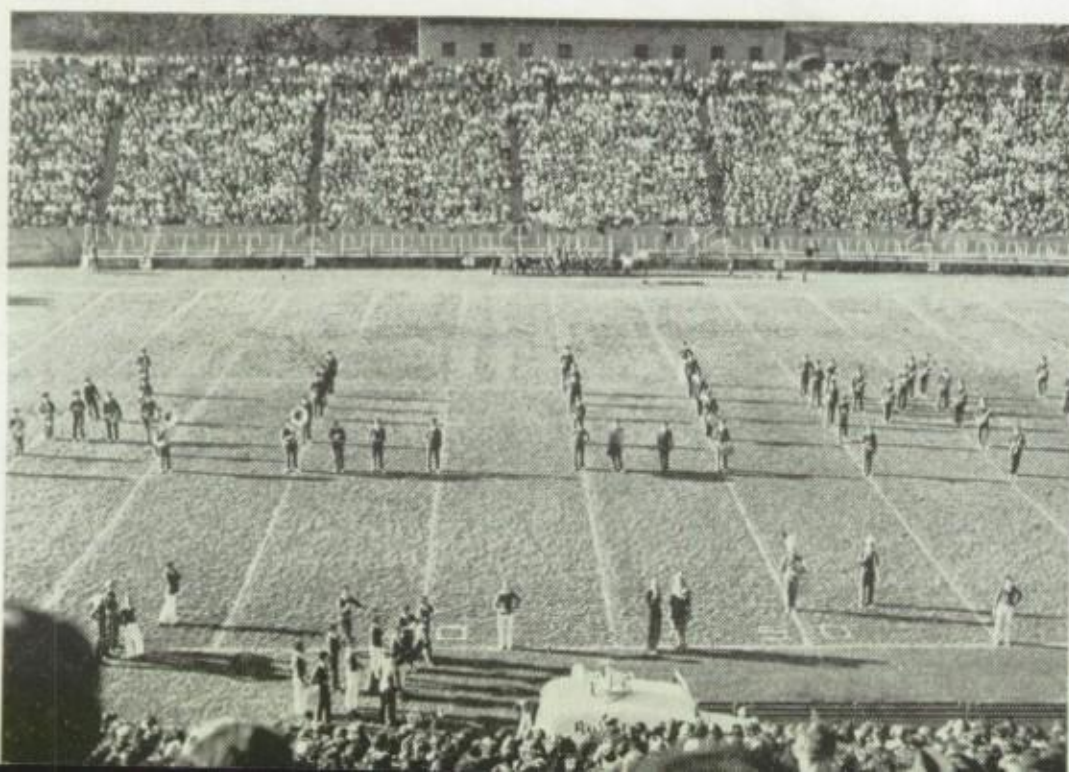

Managers carefully check in the band equipment after another game. This is one of many duties that are unheralded, yet necessary for smooth operation of facilities.

Purcell's smart operating band snaps into another snazzy formation. The Cheerleaders whoop it up for Cavalier fans to give out with the familiar school song.

It's "Homecoming Day" at the Roger Bacon game. The band spells out "Alumni." Hundreds of Purcell's old grads witnessed this event, the first of its kind in school history.

Our Cavalier band concludes its half-time performance, marching off of the gridiron to some lively beats by the drummer quartet. On every occasion the band out performed their rivals, even Withrow.

Religious Activities Inspire

DURING the present school year at Purcell High School, one of the most active large groups of students was the Purcell unit of the CSMC. The group began its activities in September of the current school year and unselfishly participated in all of the major events that required its assistance. Purcell's enrollees this year number over seven hundred, a total which is considered one of the largest in the city.

In the Purcell unit each religion class has its own representative who distributes the Shield and organizes various other class activities.

"Prayer, Study, and Sacrifice," the motto of the CSMC is made real in the school.

Prayer, the bulwark of the school, is said before each class, is the main activity during the annual retreat, and is climaxed by various Masses during the year.

Study is observed by diligently reading and reviewing the Shield and by entering the oratorical contests.

Sacrifice is made by the students during the annual Lenten Self-Denial Fund, which meets with huge success every year. Instead of the usual Mission Fund, the receipts of the Self-Denial Fund were contributed this year to the Bishops' War Relief Fund for the Starving People of Europe.

Purcell was host to units from every school in this area recently when a convention was held at the school. This convention was attended by approximately five hundred students from every part of the city.

PURCELL'S Cavalieri Chapter of the National Mathematics Honor Society of Secondary Schools has brought another year of glory and honor to Purcell. Under the direction of Father Antony these scholars have continued to foster interest in mathematics, which in our scientific world of today is essential.

The individual members have written these on various spheres of mathematical work, some of which were read at the Third Annual Colloquium held at Our Lady of Angels High School.

True to their motto, "Full of Promise for the Advancement of Mankind," the Chapter donated several books to Purcell's library.

Thirty pledges, the future glory of the Chapter, were received in March.

Pro's And Con's Wage War

IN THE Cavalier Castle, there are some young orators who form the Purcell Debating Club. The Cavalier team has joined the Debating League in this district, the league being divided into two semesters of activity. During the first semester, the Cavaliers have had for their subject, "Resolved: That the Federal Government should provide a system of complete medical care available to all citizens at public expenses." On completion of competition for the semester, the Cavaliers bowed to Mother of Mercy High School in a championship debate.

The second semester opened with a series of debates with Newport High, the subject being, "Resolved: That the Federal Government should revise its labor laws in order to control strikes." At the end of this second semester, the best team in the league will receive the Debaters' Award.

1. Joi Jackson and Wallace Toren debate while Elizabeth Jaspers, James Finan and Charles Stinson listen and take notes.

2. Ken Haas, Harold Knecht, Bill Mueller, Pat Dowling, and Nancy Steinkamp prepare their notes for the rebuttal.

Junior Debaters Warm Up

WHEN a pupil enters Purcell he must, many times, wait until he is a Junior or Senior before he can be admitted into any club in the school. This, however, is not true for the debating club; a pupil may enter this organization any-time during his four high school years.

The qualifications are two-fold: first, to show interest in the club; and secondly, to have the necessary ability.

This club was founded to prepare the Frosh and Sophs only, for work as future debaters. Under the leadership of Brother Rossman, S.M., this club has worked constantly among themselves. In their future years as Purcell men, these young battlers will prove that they have gained much practical experience while junior debaters.

Crimson Rooters Inspire

ON THE scene at every lively event of the school year were these cheerleaders under the supervision of Brother John Harrington.

Flying somersaults, handsprings, and a general routine of muscle-twisting motions are all part of a day's workout.

During football season, their most spectacular stage-chance, these morale-boosters lead the Cavalier team on to victories for the crimson and gold. Through rain, snow, hail, and sleet we see them always giving a few new "turns" to the game.

The yellmen went all out to spark every school activity. The novel basketball cheers introduced at Purcell's first basketball rally went over with a bang, especially the "submarine" cheer.

Businessmen Organize Socials

THE Commercial Club specializes in the business and financial work of the school. Its moderator since its start has been Brother Maurice Beyer.

ACTIVE Crimson Club members profit socially and scholastically. A participant at the Junior Town Meeting makes many acquaintances while he goes through the process of having his talk approved and improved. He learns cooperation with other students so that their informational introductions cover most of the field to be discussed and then he learns the courtesy and quick thinking needed for lively and intelligent discussion. He may make the acquaintance of some well known news and sports commentators, and he has the pleasure of working with the cordial staff of advisors and producers engaged at station WSAI.

Scholastically the speaker learns to be on his toes in the mincing of words which cannot be vague after the explanation and encouragement given by the competent Miss Dora Slutz, moderator of the Junior Town Meeting.

As the scholastic year closes, each participant on the program is invited to a dinner-dance where he renews acquaintances and meets again the moderator, Miss Slutz; the secretary-receptionist, Miss Marilyn Hilvers; the regular announcer and moderator of the discussions, Mr. Brenton Grant; the lively pinch-hit moderator, Mr. George Palmer; and all of the participants whom the young discussant has met during the season. Dit-dah-men Master Radio

On the "It's Fun To Learn" broadcast are a few members of the Radio Club. Is it fun to learn?

WITH the advent of the 1946 school season, the Radio Club, with Brother Bernard Jansen the faculty mentor, turned a determined head towards their goal, an amateur transmitter for use in the school. Building has started on this unit and their hope is to complete it in the near future.

The organization began this year by electing Pat Close, president, and Tom Talley, vice-president.

During its first two years at Purcell the club was hampered by lack of equipment; but with the flood of surplus army materials, Bro. Jansen and the boys have completed an amazing amount of work. Included in their achievements are a ten meter converter, a Cathode ray oscilloscope, and a record player for use in the school.

Government Enters School Life

AFTER an absence of four years, the student council was re-inaugurated by the senior class of "47." Being composed of one elected representative from each homeroom, and each elected member having a vote, it is the voice of the student body. Its aim is to mold mutual relations between the students and the faculty on matters regarding school and the associated social life of the students.

Headed by the senior class officers-William Curran, president; James Mott, vice-president; William Folzenlogen, secretary; and Donald Brill, treasurer and moderated by Father Joseph Lekan, this group convenes every two weeks to discuss the situation facing the students at the present time. Its work is accomplished only when it achieves its double aim.

The constitution governing this body is the revised edition of the constitution used in 1942. It was revamped by a committee composed of Ronald Williams, chairman, Thomas McCoy, Anthony D'Angelo and John Schlueter. The legal adoption was supervised by Mr. John Keefe, president of the Purcell Alumni Association.

The student body works through the student council for the things they think will further harmony between the faculty and themselves in helping each student to LIVE NOW!

Hellenists Reborn

THIS last school year marked the arrival of a new activity at Purcell Advocati Latini. Under the direction of Fr. James McKay, S.M., the club consisting of fifteen juniors, got away from the conventional dry translation and delved into the latent but interesting details of the famous persons, places, and events in Roman history. In accordance with such a plan, reports were given on pertinent subjects like the Coliseum in Rome, which was supplemented with various pictures to more easily explain the material. The Handwriting on the Wall, a factual account of the writings found on the walls of the buildings in the excavated town of Pompeii, served as a key to the discovery of the way of life in those days. Another report concerned itself with the Circus Maximus, the scene of the Roman chariot races and the gladiatorial fights. A short play was given entitled Exitium Ceasaris about the death of Caesar.

Staff Feeds Bookworms

THIS last year saw the library staff of Purcell busy as usual with maintaining the library services: checking books in and out, keeping them in order, and supplying the other needed activities of a library that demanded many an hour's work from those reliable fellows' leisure time.

Live Now

The library itself is no small enterprise for it contains over 5,500 books plus many pamphlets and magazines and will soon be further enriched by the addition of 400 new books mostly by prominent Catholic authors in connection with the introduction of The Catholic Authors edited by Bro. George Shuster, S.M.

They're intensely absorbed in their Latin material outside of class.

Are these boys going to start an art shop with these Roman pictures?

Daubsters Create Atmosphere

LITERALLY speaking or otherwise, the Art Club is certainly the most "illustrious" group of all. This elite club is composed of promising young artists. At the helm of this practical educational organization is Brother Louis Weber, a very experienced instructor in the field of art. The Art Club is definitely an active organization. push all our drives beyond our goals. Their huge posters enlivened our assemblies, especially those colorful football rallies, which will never be forgotten.

Besides furnishing signs for our assemblies and drives, they also advertised our Bazaar and Turkey Raffle with modernistic silk-screen patterns.

Along with these sources of outlet necessitating art work, many of our youthful art-minded students competed in the poster contests held throughout the year, such as Fire Prevention, Flower Week, Safety Week, and Catholic Book Week.

If the art club continues to function in its Cavalier spirit, these boys will take their places in our world as true Christian leaders and Catholic gentlemen through their well-executed Christian Art.

Activity Trains To Tested Leadership

VERY few important events take place at Purcell, whether scholastic, athletic, or social, that do not receive the capable support of the Crimson Club. Journalists Highlight Unforgetables

FOLLOWING the traditions of Purcell, the "Plume" made a very determined effort to retain its All-American rating this year. As the result of an election in the early days of the first semester, the editor's responsibilities fell on the shoulders of Kenneth Hahn. At the head of the large and important news department were Jack Neises and Jim Cannon; Richard Holtkamp wrote and edited most of the feature stories.

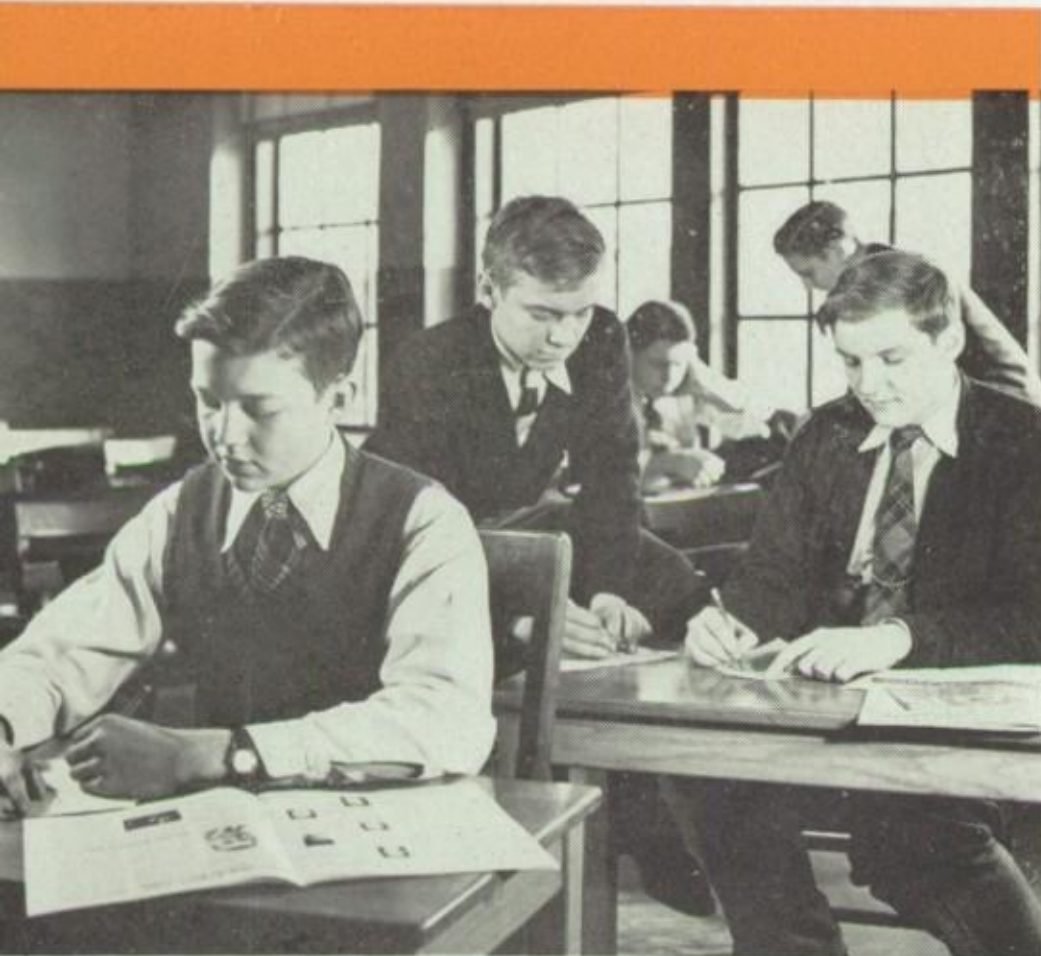

Sonny Haines was the editor of the well-liked sports section and wrote the widely read column "Sportlites." Assisting him were Henry Setter and Tom Cannon.

Digging into old annuals and files, Donald Helikamp found all the available news of our alumni. His wit still sharp, Robert Seifert returned as the editor of the "Class News," mostly widely read section in our publication. All the necessary art work was handled very capably by Richard Heller. Supplying enough verse for a hundred issues was just "a lot of fun" for Thomas McDonough, poetry editor. The unsung heroes of the "Plume" who contributed much to its success were the staff writers: Ray Kroger, Tom Bruggeman, R. Sheshull, J. Connolly, Hubert Buschle, and Tom Hustmyer. In charge of the circulation department was William Stuebbe.

Brother John Harrington, faculty adviser, tried to introduce more student-opinion slants to the writings in the Plume.

SINCE over two hundred seniors are bidding adieu to Purcell, the Staff of the 1947 Cavalier ventures to help relive those unforgettable carefree days spent so well at the Alma Mater.

Directing this hard working group of annual writers who spent hours compiling yearbook with its appealing and interesting style, is Mark Stewart, editor-in-chief. Displaying artistic quality to our "Cavalier" is Douglas Brockman, art editor, who is a worthwhile prospect in this vast field.

Editing our very versatile and successful field of athletics in pep-packed style, is Henry Setter, sports editor.

Managing the important financial duties and details that go hand in hand with an annual is Edward Beverage, a capable and enthusiastic salesman.

The task of composing all articles (with the exception of the sports coverage) and creating the titles for the hundred of pictures, fell to the ten staff writers; James Cannon, Thomas Cannon, Kenneth Hahn, Thomas Hustmyer, Albert Ritter, Paul Schacherer, Donald Schmidt, Richard Schmitt, William Stuebbe, and Don Hellkamp.

Final proofing and typing of articles was handled by John Frey, William Pewther, Norbert Stallo, and Thomas White.

If the annual staff succeeds to portray in a small way, a Cavalier's life, — those dances, those assemblies, those proms, those football games, those classrooms, — the nucleus of our Purcell spirit which it is impossible to express in words, it will consider its main objective to have been reached.

Thus, the 1947 Cavalier is presented. Cavalier attainments, scholastically, athletically, and graphically laid before you.

Parents Eager To Cooperate

Live Now

THE outstanding parents' association in the city is the Welfare. With its membership of over one thousand members, the Welfare sponsors two big financial events annually, — the Turkey Bazaar and the Spring Festival, — and the finances are used for equipping the band, finishing the gym, blacktopping and enlarging the yard.

The monthly meeting every third Thursday is indeed inspiring and is the reason why

Purcell is rated one of the best high schools in the city. After a business meeting in the auditorium, the parents are invited to the cafeteria to have a well-liked, sociable evening with refreshments and entertainment for all. The officers this year are: Mr. Wm. Cosgrove, president; Mr. Earl Nieland, vice-president; Mr. Henry P. J. Wurtzler, membership chairman; Mrs. Raymond Kroger, recording secretary; Mr. John Ruf, entertainment chairman; Mr. A. W. Nightingale, publicity chairman.

At the St. Patrick's Party for the Welfare Association, they decided to find out which lady in attendance had the brightest green dress, and here is the line-up of mothers who have worn a green dress. All Irish!

The young woman is none other than Mrs. Dottie Mercurio, the woman with the greenest dress at the St. Patrick's Party. Another green award was given to Mr. Bill Schwemberger for the greenest tie. (It had a light on it.)

The evening would not be complete without a little music to soothe nerves, and to add to the soothing, would be a good singer, which the Welfare had in Mr. Art Schoenberg who did credit to the Irish Melodies.

While Mr. William Fischer fiddles away, Fr. James Byrnes and Mr. John Sheehan blend their voices to the tone of "McNamara's Band." As we all know Fr. Byrne is a true Irishman and always enjoys an Irish tune.

There is one thing which marks every Cavalier — youth. It is this quality which opens the door to all the good times of his school career. Youth alone can derive the full benefits from these years. Thus, Cavaliers are challenged to make the most of their school life.

Frosh Muralists Deck The Walls

THE two board murals that graced the art room over the holidays marked an outstanding achievement for the freshman art students. Brilliantly colored with chalk these two Christmas murals interpret the birth of Christ and its living perpetuation in the sacrifice of the Mass. The artists had as their purpose to make their own illustrative representation of these religious realities. The admiration of fellow students, parents and friends prove that their efforts were successful.

After a discussion on the possibilities and implications of each mural, each student decided on the one to which he wished to contribute his talents. The two groups thus formed immediately went to work to study the various settings that would most develop the idea they had in mind. When the individual settings had finally been decided upon each member of the group drew up a working drawing of the entire mural. These drawings were then compared, analyzed and criticized by the group and from them the various scenes of the mural were selected.

From start to finish both board drawings provided a situation for the students to battle problems of successful social living.

It is said, "Music has charms to soothe the savage breast." This picture seems to substantiate that claim. Most of the Purcellmen look thoroughly subdued.

A real saleslady keeps patrons hopping.

My two-bits may become a dollar.

Several adults who would rather trust to their skill at cards in the gym than to their luck at the stands in the cafeteria.

Part of the festival crowd gathers in front of the wheel for this picture. Notice how some of those faces follow the camera!

Reception Into C. S. M. C.

Anthony Palumbo and Thomas McCoy conduct with Fr. Barrett the ceremony of reception into the school's C.S.M.C. organization.

Four junior servers return from the sanctuary of St. Francis De Sales after the reception into the C.S.M.C. chapter.

Cavalier

The big day every mother longs for; the seniors' and mothers' Mass and Holy Communion after the annual retreat.

The biggest event has come to pass: the reception of Holy Communion by the seniors and their proud mothers.

Fr. Hungling, Fr. Barrett, and Fr. Gallagher chant responses at benediction after Mass at St. Francis De Sales Church.

Fr. Barrett reads the pledge for members at reception into the C.S.M.C to be repeated by the students.

Retreat Days

Fr. George Hilvert, the upperclassmen's retreat master, pauses briefly for a picture during his private counseling with an anxious petitioner.

The inspiring words of Fr. Hilvert struck home as he spoke to the massed body of awed listeners.

Senior Class History

1944 FRESHMAN YEAR

"There is no debatable issue here"

That's right fellows, "There is no debatable issue" when it comes to the Cincinnati City Railway. They have showed the public that their aim is to serve and to please. Here at Purcell we are well aware of the service the Cincinnati Railway Company gives through its special school bus system. This is a convenience offered to students by the Railway Company.
